August, 2009

Welcome! Berkeley City Ballet welcomes you to what promises to be an exciting 2009 – 2010 school year. We continue to embrace our mission of providing ballet training and performances of the highest possible caliber to our diverse East Bay community.

Berkeley City Ballet's Professional Ballet Program is for the student who aspires towards a high level of technical and artistic proficiency. The student follows a mandatory and rigorous progressive training schedule from Ballet 1 to Ballet 7. This allows the most advanced students to proceed on to professional ballet careers if desired. This program requires a high degree of commitment. Performances for Ballet 1 through 7 include the Nutcracker and a Spring Concert.

Berkeley City Ballet's Youth Ensemble is a select company of advanced dancers from Ballet 7. The Youth Ensemble gives BCB dancers the opportunity to broaden their dance techniques and increase their performance opportunities. The Ensemble offers students a place to experience the rigors of a professional company while still in an educational environment. Students attend weekly modern classes in addition to their full ballet schedule. The Ensemble works with professional dancers and guest choreographers from the Bay Area. In addition to roles in BCB's professional Nutcracker and Spring Concert, the Youth Ensemble performs at various festivals and theaters throughout the Bay Area. A rehearsal/costume fee is required.

Open classes are for the student who wishes to pursue dance for the sheer joy of learning movement as an expressive art and discipline. BCB offers a variety of dance classes for a range of ages with quality instruction and flexible scheduling.

Amanda Whitehead trained in ballet at The Washington School of Ballet and subsequently performed with The Washington Ballet from 1994 to 1996. She then attended Princeton University where she majored in Spanish. During that time she also continued her studies of the performing arts by taking classes and performing in modern dance, hip-hop, and musical theater. From 1997 to 2006, she taught and choreographed for the drama program at The Pennington School in Pennington, NJ. She currently performs with Ahdanco.

Amy Resner grew up in Berkeley, California, and started dancing when she was nine. She was among the first members of the Berkeley City Ballet when it was formed in 19__? and performed frequently with the company—including dancing as the Sugar Plum Fairy in its very first Nutcracker Suite Ballet. At age 15, she was accepted at the San Francisco Ballet School. While there, she performed in the Nutcracker and in many different programs showcasing the San Francisco Ballet School. She trained at SFB until she went to Smith College in 1983. At Smith, she performed several times a year, in both classical ballet and contemporary pieces. After college, she took classes at the Washington D.C. School of Ballet and in Berkeley. In 1989, she graduated from law school at UC Berkeley's Boalt Hall. Over the last 20 years, while working as a Deputy District Attorney, a Chief of Staff to the Mayor of Berkeley, a speechwriter for the Chancellor at UC Berkeley, and most recently, as a full-time mom, she has taken class on and off. Her daughter enrolled at BCB when she was eight and is still dancing there at age 12.

Alexandra Jacob was born in Oakland, California, and began dancing at Berkeley City Ballet at the age of eight. Jacob attended various summer programs on scholarship including the Dance Theatre of Harlem, Alonzo King Lines Ballet, and Joffrey Ballet. After graduating high school, Jacob put dancing on hold all together to pursue an architecture degree at The California College of the Arts. A few years into the program, Jacob rediscovered her love for dance and decided to follow a career in ballet. In 2005, Jacob joined the Dance Theatre of Harlem Ensemble under the direction of Arthur Mitchell. With the Dance Theatre of Harlem, Jacob has been given the opportunity to dance in respected programs such as 'In Performance at the White House' at the White House in 2006, 'Protégés: The International Ballet Academy Festival' at the Kennedy Center, 'Works and Process' at the Guggenheim Museum in New York, and an annual public performance at The New York Supreme Court. Recently, Jacob also participated in the ensemble's national tour.

- Illness: When mildly ill, students are encouraged to observe class. Refunds are not given for loss of classes due to illness. Parents must call in, email or send a note of permission if a student sits out due to illness or injury for each class missed. Sitting out excessively may lead to change in class level or casting.
- Late Arrivals: For the safety of the dancer, students arriving out of dress code or more than 10 minutes late will be asked to observe rather than participate in class.
- Make-Up Classes: There are no make-up classes for Ballet 1 through Ballet 7. There are no refunds for missed classes.
- Non-Payment of Tuition: Students may not participate in class until tuition is paid in full.
- Observance of Classes: All regular classes and rehearsals are closed to observation. Visiting Days will be scheduled for Pre-Ballet and Ballet Basics to view the progress of the class.

- Promotions/Placements: Promotions and placements are decided on by the Artistic Director and the faculty based on technical progress, physical capabilities and strength, self-discipline, self-expression, consistency of attendance, the potential for professional work and the student's BCB evaluation. Some students may be asked to repeat a year if they have not accomplished the technique necessary for advancement.
- These decisions are taken seriously and are based on the proper development and safety of the dancer. Placement, promotions and casting are the final decision of the Artistic Director and are non-negotiable.
- Summer Workshop: BCB's Summer Workshop in July (for Ballet 1 through Ballet 7 students) is a required intensive program. This workshop gives the student 80 – 100 more hours of experience in dance. Nutcracker 2009 Rehearsal Agreement

Ballet 1 – Ballet 7

Berkeley City Ballet performs a professional-caliber production of The Nutcracker. To maintain this high performance standard it is imperative for students and parents of BCB to understand the importance of their commitment to its success. For that to be possible, students must attend all classes and rehearsals.

Students will only be allowed 1 rehearsal and 2 class absences before consideration of a change of casting or suspension from the performance will be made. Ballet 1 through Ballet 7 are eligible to participate in the Nutcracker. Ballet 1 will primarily rehearse in class.

A performance fee will be required from all Nutcracker participants to cover rehearsal, theater, wardrobe and production costs. This fee, based on class level, is due with registration.

Parents and Students: Please check the school bulletin board regularly for a breakdown of the schedule and for any changes to the schedule.

Dear Parents of BCB,

Over its history, BCB has established itself as a formidable training school with high artistic standards capable of training the pre-professional student to perform in our professional-caliber productions. However, BCB's fundraising efforts to help with the considerable costs of Nutcracker were not as successful as we had hoped. Federal, state and foundation support continue to decrease. It is essential that we continue to explore ways to increase funding. We hope that with your help we will be able to decrease costs and increase ticket sales this year so we can continue to offer our students the opportunity of performing the Nutcracker every year in a professional theater.

Here are the ways that you can help us:

VOLUNTEER: We need help with wardrobe for Nutcracker. No sewing experience is necessary. Please contact Gina Dailey through BCB and look for volunteer sign-up in the Fall.

E-MAIL AN INVITATION: We will send everyone at BCB an email of our postcard/poster to send to friends and family as an invitation to The Nutcracker.

SELL TICKETS: We believe that we sell most tickets to family and friends. The sales we do are based on a personal connection. Therefore you can help us to increase our sales by reaching out to more people in your own communities to come to the Nutcracker. We will decrease costs on publicity this year (our second largest expenditure), relying on you to let people know about our Nutcracker and to sell tickets. We expect every family to sell at least 10 tickets to people in your communities. This increases our exposure and over time increases our audience base. If we can sell more tickets, we can start to decrease our losses during Nutcracker.

FIND DONORS: BCB needs donors. Individuals who care about the arts or who have an affiliation with BCB and may want to help. Let's ask! Additionally, please give us any names of possible donors who should be added to our mailing list! Remember donations to BCB are tax-exempt charitable donations.

Berkeley City Ballet will celebrate 35 years as a non-profit organization this year. We have weathered the economic and political tides with remarkable tenacity while many other non-profits in the arts have failed. To remain a successful and thriving non-profit organization, BCB needs the focus and hardworking efforts of its entire community, including the staff, the Board of Directors and the parents of our dedicated students. With your help, we look forward to another great year at BCB!

Most gratefully,

Elizabeth Godfrey
